Getting the right data to the right people in the right format at the right time is what we do best. CDC Praxa's Business Intelligence practice provides a variety of consulting services to assist in the feasibility, design, development, implementation and ongoing support and maintenance of an organisation's Business Intelligence (BI) strategy. From enterprise performance, information & content management to licensing and training of BI tools, CDC Praxa's experienced team gives an organisation a systematic & integrated approach to improving their business decision making.

CDC Praxa partners with three of the world's leading Business Intelligence software vendors to bring our customers a unique integrated capability for information delivery. As a Zap Certified Partner and a Gold Certified Partner to both SAP BusinessObjects and Microsoft, CDC Praxa has developed a close working relationship with these leading BI vendors to provide an encompassing business intelligence service and support to ensure our customers get the best out of their BI investment and environment.

Business Intelligence Solutions

CDC Praxa can help you link customer information to your business processes to make sales and finance practices more responsive and efficient. This helps you to service your customers better and faster while giving your organisation a reliable performance management measure through effective data analysis. When it comes to great customer service, what better way to service them than being armed with all the knowledge of who they are, what they want and when, where and how they want to get it, all at your finger tips? CDC Praxa's BI solutions have been providing organisations and Government departments with tools that bring together critical information from different sources.

By utilising a set of monitoring and analysis tools, CDC Praxa can help you align your business strategy with accountability while truthfully measuring every performance metric, building on your investment for future growth.
